Beer, Wine License Requests Turned Down

Since it had met only seven days earlier, Antioch's village board was able to zip through Monday night's meeting in 30 minutes flat.

No earth-shaking decisions had to be made. Those are being saved for Monday, Aug. 2, and Tuesday, Aug. 3.

At 7 p.m. on Aug. 2 the village trustees will meet with representatives of the police department and the Chamber of Commerce to discuss the future of the downtown parking meters.

Should they be removed or not? In the past week police officers were observed checking the meters and ticketing cars parked overtime. Previously, the police had been told the meters were on the way out. Then a Chamber of Commerce poll of businessmen showed that most downtown merchants want them to stay.

ON AUG. 3 at 7:30 p.m., Chairman Donald Amundsen of the village zoning board of appeals has announced that a public hearing will be held on the proposed new sign ordinance.

"All persons desiring to appear and be heard, for or against the sign ordinance amendment, may appear at the hearing," Amundsen said.

At this week's village board meeting, the trustees turned down requests from The Vault restaurant and Foremost Liquors for beer and wine licenses.

"We don't have that kind of license available at this time," said Diane (Willie) Schmidt, one of the trustees.

Foremost Liquors is moving into the Ace Hardware location in Orchard Plaza in September and wanted to install a "snack bar," the trustees said.

ANTIOCH'S VILLAGE employees had "God" on their side and maybe that's why they trounced the local firemen 33-5 in their annual softball game last weekend. The village team showed up with natty jerseys and nicknames. Scotty Lowe was No 13½. "Waldo" at the left is Bob Walsh. In the background is umpire Mike Haley. More pictures and the story of the game appear inside.

Legislators View Chain's Problems

Local businessmen and sportsmen hope they made an impression on state legislators Monday.

They pointed out the flooding and pollution problems of the Chain of Lakes and Fox River, and emphasized the necessity of "restoring the well-being of the entire area, and preserving its natural resources for recreational use by all Illinois residents."

State senators and representatives attended a barbecue at the Harbor on Bluff Lake. The gathering was sponsored by the Chambers of Commerce of MOTORISTS TRAVELING west on Rt. 173 won't be able to miss the announcement that the Antioch Lions Club will stage its annual Farmers Picnic and Auction on Sunday, Aug. 1. Warren Polley, superintendent of the Antioch High School district, and publicity chairman for the Lions Club event, had this huge banner posted on a baseball backstop at the high school field.

Woods Resigns From Grade School Board

Antioch Grade School District 34 will meet again Tuesday, Aug. 3, and one of the main items on the agenda will be discussion of a seventh member to complete the school board.

LaVerne M. Woods, president of the First National Bank of Antioch, resigned last week.

Dick Harland, a former president of the school board, was appointed to replace Mr. Woods, but then Mr. Harland withdrew.

At last week's meeting, one of the teachers Sue Kuzia, resigned.

New teacher contracts were given to Ellen Eisenhauer, who will teach 5th grade, and also Mary Cecilia Marshall, Mary Podraza and Carol Urbancic.

New Culvert Applied For

Five applications for construction permits, including one from Antioch, have been received by the Division of Water Resources, the Illinois Department of Transportation announced.

All persons either favoring or opposing the proposed construction are invited to send written statements to Leon M. Eisel, Director, 2300 S. Dirksen Parkway, Room 329, Springfield, Ill., 62764.

The application from Lake County is by the Village of Antioch, 874 Main St., to replace a steel culvert in Sequoit Creek.

Elite Directory Includes B-J Rush

B-J Rush Studio, 141 Cheri Lane, Antioch is listed in the 1976 Directory of Qualified Photographic Studios published by the Professional Photographers of America, Inc.

There are only 427 studios holding the qualified studio designation. These studios must continuously demonstrate the ability to produce top quality photography. Joseph and Barbara Rush of Antioch are the owners of the local studio.

Formed in 1957 to maintain and advance the standards of commercial and portrait photography, the program is designed to give customers the highest quality photographic service available.

Poll Shows Farmers Prefer Jim Thompson

Among Illinois farmers, Republican James R. Thompson has a comfortable lead over Mike Howlett in the race for governor of Illinois, according to a Prairie Farmer magazine poll. The poll was made by personal interview of 500 people.

Here is how farmers answered the question, "Michael J. Howlett, Democrat, and James R. Thompson, Republican, have been nominated for governor of Illinois. If the election were being held today, for which candidate would you vote?"

The results: Thompson, 53.3 percent; Howlett, 19.4 percent; and undecided, 26.7 percent.

Prairie Farmer asked further, "Will the fact that Mayor Richard Daley of Chicago is a close friend of Mike Howlett influence your vote for governor?"

Here is how they responded:

day night, the trustees decided to restrict the hours in which mobile food vendors can operate in residential areas.

The hours will be from 9 a.m. until dark and the vendors will have to get a village permit to operate.

Paul Bouraxis, owner of the Antioch Restaurant, 904 Main St., asked the village for six months to convert the upstairs of his building into apartments.

Bouraxis said his upstairs, the former Charmglow offices, are now being used as sleeping rooms for his cook and dishwasher.

Trustee Mike Haley received permission from Bouraxis to inspect the premises, along with other trustees, before a decision is made by the village officials.

Calvary Baptist church is building a new parsonage and the trustees agreed to waive fee permit costs for the parish.

MAYOR ROBERT C. WILTON and some of the other village officials spent part of the afternoon and evening at the Harbor on Bluff Lake, introducing state legislators to the flooding and pollution problems of the Chain of Lakes.

"I think it was a very functional type of program," Haley said. "We met with many legislators and, hopefully, we've opened some eyes of the downstate legislators regarding the largest recreational area in the state."

Village Clerk Marilyn Sternbenz suggested that Attorney Andrew C. Lynch draw up a lease agreement between the village and the grade school-district "as a concrete step forward" in the Antioch Bicentennial Commission's hopes to use the old school building at Main and Depot streets as a historical museum.

Trustee Bill Seemann said the school district appears willing to negotiate but is looking for a comparable amount of space to use as a storage facility.

THE ANTIOCH Jaycees were given permission to set up a "dunk tank" near the Limerick Lounge during Maxwell Street Days, at the end of August.

Trustee Haley said he already has agreed to sit above the tank and let accurate throwers of baseballs dunk him. He also said arrangements were being made to have Mayor Wilton spend some time in the tank.

"No way," said the mayor. "I wouldn't go in there if they gave me scuba diving equipment."

Dug Out Park Tournament This Weekend

Dug Out Park, north of Antioch on Hy. 83, will host its "Firecracker 16-inch Softball Tournament" Saturday and Sunday.

The event is sponsored by the State Bank of Antioch.

The tourney is single elimination. Entry is $50 with sponsor trophies for the top two teams and $350 in traveling expense.

People Are Finally Demanding Changes

There is no way to estimate the number of corporations, universities, foundations, and institutes that have in recent years opened offices in Washington to track down contracts, grants, and assistance money available from the national government.

Only six years ago Washington trailed several other large cities in the number of trade and professional associations located within its boundaries. However, the Metropolitan Board of Trade recently disclosed that the number of such groups has tripled since 1969. As a result, Washington now is ahead of New York City and all other areas in the association business.

OTHER SPECIAL-INTEREST groups depend on influential law firms to make sure they don't get short-changed by bureaucrats who have ready access to the federal treasury. Many of these firms are heavily staffed with lawyers who formerly worked for regulatory agencies such as the Security and Exchange Commission, the Federal Trade Commission, and the Federal Communications Commission, to name a few.

Despite attempts by the Ford Administration to curb the authority of the regulatory agencies, they are gaining more power every day. The intent of Congress, and many times the intent of the Administration, is often lost in the maze of governmental superstructures so huge that only trained experts with years of experience can find their way around in them.

But while the Administration - until now - has proven almost helpless, the people are beginning to put at least a partial rein on the power of these bureaucracies. More and more legal actions are being brought against federal

BARRY GOLDWATER

Stupid Projects in Federal Budget

By SEN. BARRY GOLDWATER

No government can afford to become emotionally involved in its bureaucratic projects. This is why only the citizens who foot the bill will ever be able to do anything about projects such as the following:

-A $57,500 study by the University of Pittsburgh on "Community and National Integration" in the People's Republic of China.

-A $20,000-a-year study of German cockroaches by the National Institute of Health.

-A $70,000 project to conduct research on the smell of perspiration from Australian aborigines. This is one of 16 sub-projects concerned with the "zoophysiology" in Alaska. The purpose of the sub-project - (to learn about man's adaptation to his environment) - involved a comparison of the Alaskan Eskimo with the Australian aborigine and their reactions to climate.

-A $8,700 grant awarded by the National Foundation on the Arts and the Humanities for a study of the history of comic books in the 19th century. The focus of the project was on the social and political style of comic-strip presentations.

-A payment of $500 to a writer for a poem only seven letters long. The poem (all of it) is as follows: "light." It was written by Aram Saroyan, son of author William Saroyan, and was elected for the American Literary Anthology.

-A $46,089 grant to the University of California at Los Angeles for a dictionary of witchcraft entitled "American Popular Beliefs and Superstitions."

NOT ONLY IS the idea of a dictionary of witchcraft a ridiculous pursuit to be financed with federal dollars, but it constitutes an unwarranted example of government competition with private industry.

Certainly if a great demand exists for such a publication, America has an ample number of publishing houses ready, willing, and eager to meet it. There was no need for the government to step in.

This, of course, is not a full listing of the stupid-sounding projects which show up each year in the federal budget. There is a $19,200 study inaugurated to figure out why kids fall off their tricycles.

Others which absolutely raise the hackles on the taxpayer's neck these days are studies of toads in Central America, ants in Indo-Austria, wild boars in Pakistan, lizards in Yugoslavia, catfish in India, and whistling ducks in Texas.

IN ALL FAIRNESS, some of these projects suffer from bureaucratic stupidity in the way they are described. Some, according to the general Accounting Office (GAO), have a sound basis for their existence in the budget. Others, however, are little bits and pieces pulled together by federal bureaucrats in their efforts to build a personal empire before Uncle Sam gets around to discovering that they are not doing much to justify their existence on the federal payroll.

Throughout the years, American taxpayers have simmered under the collar at this kind of waste. If that was their reaction in years when the economy was healthy, what must it be today, especially if they happen to be among the unemployed?

agencies which have ignored or refused to abide by new laws adopted by Congress.

A REPORT LAST SUMMER in the Washington Post stated: "Court actions against federal agencies are becoming common: Congress passes a law, an agency ignores it, the people sue and the court acts ..."

An example of the type of legal action that is becoming more frequent is a recent suit brought by 17 farm-worker organizations against the Department of Labor for not taking action to assist migrant farm workers in accordance with the law.

The outcome was that Judge Charles B. Richey of the U.S. District Court in Washington ordered the Department of Labor to deliver "all manpower services, benefits and protections, including the full range of counseling, testing, training, and job referral services authorized by law" to the migrant workers, in compliance with the Wagner-Peyser Act, which affects an estimated 5 million workers and their dependents in the migrant field.

IN EFFECT THE COURT challenged the Washington bureaucracy and the officials in 50 state employment service programs and 2,700 field offices to abide by the federal statutes.

The news that the American people are at long last beginning to take matters into their own hands to curb the excesses and arrogance of the federal power brokers is encouraging.

It has long been our belief that the only way we can make any progress against bureaucratic power is by the American people becoming sufficiently aroused to demand changes.

LAST FRIDAY'S meeting of the Fox River-Chain of Lakes Commission, held in McHenry, included a report on the success of the dredging project in the channel just south of Grass Lake Rd.

More than 40,000 cubic yards of silt were dredged out of the water ... good news for boaters and all others interested in the restoration of clean water in these parts.

Employee Of Bank Retires

Evelyn Biegalski of the First National Bank of Antioch retired last Saturday.

Her fellow employees wished her "all the best in life" with a champagne toast at a gala retirement party at Osborne's Lakeshore Inn.

"Evie" had been employed by the bank since Jan. 23, 1957, as a bookkeeper. Her duties included central index file and updating of signature cards and customer records. She was well-known by bank customers for her helpfulness and thoughtfulness and by the children coming to the bank for her large bowl of lollipops.

Lou Korom, operations officer of the bank, described her in a special toast as a person "filled with a love for life."

Gifts were presented to the retiree, including a check from the board of directors, a gold pendant watch from the bank appropriately engraved for 20 years of service, and a gold ring presented by the employees of the bank.

The employees also had a gold charm engraved with her nickname attached to the chain of her watch.

Antioch, Lake Villa and Fox Lake.

A MONDAY evening rain forced the cookout to be moved indoors, but earlier some of the legislators were given a tour of the lakes in boats donated by area marinas.

"They were curious about our problems," said a member of the Chain of Lakes-Fox River Commission, which participated in the event.

Members of the commission, headed by William E. Brook of Antioch, realize the flooding and pollution problems that exist.

Many sportsmen and businessmen feel the Chain of Lakes has been neglected by "down-state" legislators and hope that Monday's gathering will make them sympathetic to the flooding and pollution problems that exist.

The state senators and representatives happened to be in the area Sunday and Monday, viewing the Port of Waukegan and doing some coho fishing. On Tuesday they planned to take their families to Marriott's Great America fun park.

The area Chambers of Commerce seized the opportunity of their presence to invite them out to the Antioch area.

"WE WANT the legislators outside the Chain to realize the importance of such things as the dredging work we need here," said Jack Siegmeier, president of the Antioch Chamber. "Maybe it will make a difference when they're voting in Springfield."

Each legislator received a map of the Chain of Lakes and a welcoming letter which said, in part:

"The Fox Chain of Lakes area includes most of the northwest quarter of Lake County and part of the east half of McHenry County. Principal municipalities include McHenry, Fox Lake, Antioch and Lake Villa.

The dominant geographical feature of the area is the Fox River, which flows into Illinois from Wisconsin, and the series of nine lakes whose water levels are maintained by a dam on the Fox River at McHenry.

"During the summer the Fox Chain of Lakes area is a very popular vacation and recreation center attracting residents of northern Illinois and southern Wisconsin as well as more distant places. The summer population of the region is estimated to be over four times the normal population.

"Chain of Lakes State Park, located north of Grass Lake, attracted 613,479 visitors last year and officials are expecting over 750,000 visitors in 1976. Extensive camping and boating facilities are available at the park. Virtually all of the visitation of the Fox Chain of Lakes area is centered about water recreation and related facilities.

"The area is located in close proximity to the major centers

50 YEARS AGO: JULY 22, 1926

An early morning revolver duel, as hot as any he had faced overseas, resulted in a victory for James Mack, owner of the Volo garage. He routed a robber after 14 shots had been fired and believes one of his bullets wounded the burglar. Mack and his prowling foe faced each other with only the width of a truck between them and blazed away for their lives in Mack's garage. The robber fired nine times while Mack replied with five whistling bits of lead. The battle came to an abrupt end when the robber leaped through a large plate glass window and fled.

One of the biggest events of the season was staged at the Chain O'Lakes golf course when members of Glen Flora in Waukegan played in a tournament with members of Chain O'Lakes. Vincent Dupre won $20 worth of golf clubs with a score of 95 (32 handicap) for 63. The caddies had it very easy pulling golf bags on wheels, a new wrinkle put on the market by R.H. Stripe of Waukegan. It is making a hit on all the big courses in the country.

Artist Records Antioch's Past

Eight pen and ink sketches of "The Good Old Days in Antioch," done by Shirley Grego, are now on display in the main lobby of the First National Bank of Antioch.

Mrs. Grego, a well-known local artist, has won awards at many art shows, including the Antioch Art Fair, the annual Town and Country art shows, and the Lake County and Kenosha County art fairs.

She also has her work on display in several Lake County restaurants, including Fox Lake Country Club and McCormick's in Lake Bluff.

St. Therese Hospital in Waukegan displays her work in pastels, acrylics and oils.

at the corner of Main and Orchard streets, where the Phillips 66 service station now is located.

THE PEN AND ink sketches are historical prints of Antioch which residents would be proud to display in their homes and businesses.

The series on display at the First National Bank includes two sets of four prints. Set No. 1 includes the Antioch train depot in 1909, the Williams Bros. Store located on Main St. (now V&S hardware store), the Ford garage (1917), now Antioch Carpet on Main St., and the Edgar Hotel, most recently known as the Mortensen Hotel at the corner of Main and Orchard streets, where the Phillips 66 service station now is located.

THE SECOND set includes the Antioch library in the 1870's, the First National Bank of Antioch in 1926, Antioch Township High School in 1915, and Antioch Grade School in 1892.

"The prints are suitable for framing and would make wonderful gifts for friends and relatives who have visited the area," said LaVerne M. Woods, president of the bank.

"The bank invites every resident of the area to stop in and view the display. We are sure the prints will bring back pleasant memories," Mr. Woods said.

FURNITURE CLINIC

By JANET MILLER

I have had so many people ask me how to go about getting a close match, colorwise, when choosing a stain for a piece of furniture that must fit back into a set, or what to do when they are in the middle of staining their new (or old) woodwork and they run out of stain, the paint store has gone out of business, and the company stopped making that color.

All of this has made me decide to divulge my "tried and true" recipes for mixing and matching special stain colors.

Any special color can be mixed using only five commonly available stains. "These are them!"

Mahogany (red).
Lt. Oak (tan).
Walnut (basic brown).
Black ('drabber').
Maple (yellowish orange).

*ANTIQUE PINE - 4 parts walnut and 1 part mahogany.

BROWN MAHOGANY - 5 parts walnut, 1 pt. mahogany and 1 pt. oak.

*ANTIQUE MAPLE - 2 pt. maple, 1 pt. oak and 1 pt. walnut.

*HONEY MAPLE - 2 pt. maple, 1 pt. walnut and 3 pt. oak.

CHERRY - 1 pt. walnut, 1 pt. oak and 1 pt. mahogany.

when you have guests over, they will hold up your end table (or whatever the "object of your affection" was) and say, "My gosh! I can see myself in your end table!" Because that is the kind of finish it will be; a deep and beautiful finish that seems to let you look into the wood.

This type of finish is very water and alcohol resistant, making it the traditional finish for old bar tops in the colonies.

In fact, legend has it that a brick was sewn into a soft piece of flannel. This was used with the linseed oil solution at closing time to rub the bar top down and probably also as a hint for everyone to get "burping a long."

RED CHERRY - 1 pt. mahogany and 1 pt. walnut.

*Start with full strength stain mixture, then thin down for lighter shades - test on scrap wood first. The four marked will have to be thinned a lot.

Q. WHAT IS a linseed oil finish and how is it applied? I have heard that this is one of the best ways to finish a better piece of furniture.

A. Boiled linseed oil is used for this type of finish because it dries a little quicker than raw linseed oil. To speed it up even more, the oil should be diluted with one tablespoon Japan Drier to one pint boiled linseed oil.

Now we begin. First soak the oil into the wood for 3 or 4 days. Brush it on generously, allowing the wood to really soak it in. When the wood has stopped accepting the oil, rub the wood as hard as you can, making sure you get every part.

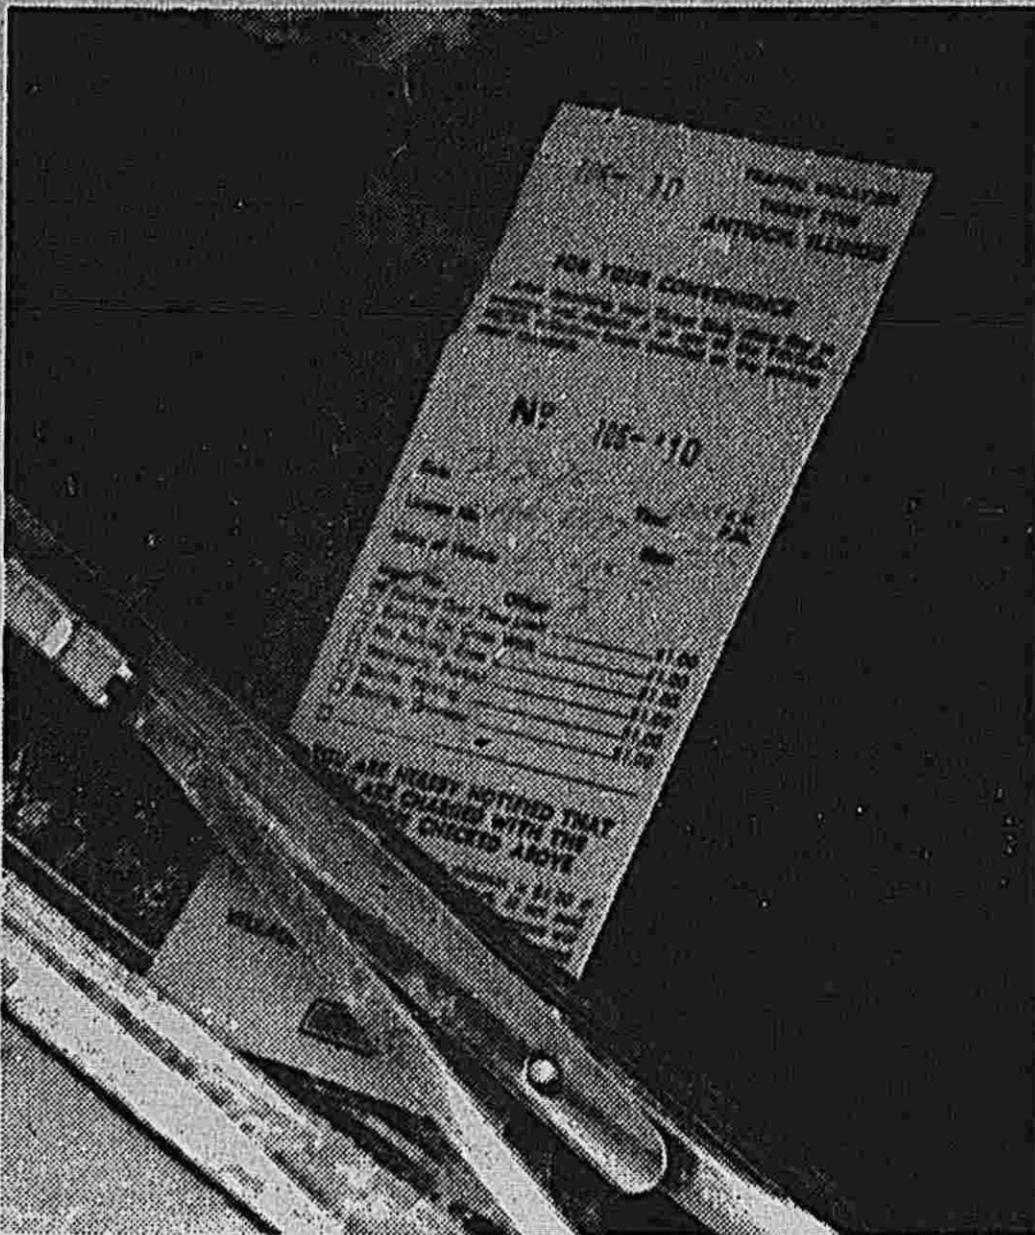

Next, take the piece out in the sun every day for a week. After you have done this, you are ready to begin building up the finish. Rub the linseed oil mixture into the wood once a week for 6 months. After each application, wipe up the excess oil with dry, lintfree cloths. There should be only the thinnest film left on the surface. At the end of the 6 month period, when it is finished, it can be waxed or polished with an oil base polish and you are finished.

Doing it this way, you will achieve the sort of finish that, ANYWAY, THERE you have it and I'll bet you're sorry you asked (I get tired out just thinking about it! But it is truly one of the most beautiful and satisfying finishes one could apply!

Thank you for your questions and please keep them coming to:

WILLIAM E. BROOK, president of the State Bank of Antioch, shares the pride of Joe Horton, right, Victoria St., Antioch, in the antique wood miniatures collection he has created over the years. The delicate handwork, evident on the stagecoach held by Mr. Horton, is repeated in the other pieces of his interesting collection now on display in the main lobby of the State Bank.

Mrs. Kumst, who runs that popular store at Grass Lake Rd. and Hy. 83, will be celebrating her birthday on Saturday.

The reason the store is so popular is because Mrs. Kumst is so nice.

A BIG anniversary party is scheduled at The New Place, Hy. 83 and Grass Lake Rd., this Saturday night.

It's hard to believe that a year has gone by already since The New Place was opened by Bill Georgeson of the World Famous Village Pub.

Bill says food, door prizes and entertainment by a folk singer will feature Saturday night's anniversary celebration.

"FAST EDDIE" Vejvoda had quite a birthday party during the weekend. People were dropping in to see him all day long. Eddie was especially happy to see all the Antioch Firemen who came to share his birthday ... including pals Bill Carney and Ray Gallaher, who gave him the nickname "Fast Eddie."

Doesn't Ray give everybody a nickname? I won't tell you what he calls me.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY also to Mrs. Anna Zalatoris, who celebrated on Tuesday of this week. Also in the family, William and Marg Zalatoris were married 25 years as of July 14th. Happy silver anniversary!

Sue and Steve Drago celebrated their fifth wedding anniversary on July 17.

BELATED BIRTHDAY wishes to Bill Herbst, who celebrated on July 17. Bill's just a little over 21.

GET WELL wishes go from all of us to Lucille Simonsen. Wonderful people like Lucille should be feeling super, and we hope she will be very soon.

of population of the state and thus serves a very important function toward the social well-being of the population. The visitation, in turn, forms a particularly important income producing segment of economy of the area. A mutually attractive dependency is thus established."

THE STATE senators and representatives also received the following message from the Chain of Lakes-Fox River Commission, which is composed of laymen and legislators from this area:

"The commission was created by the Illinois General Assembly and the initial funding bill was signed into law on July 26, 1974. The function of the commission is to study and evaluate existing and potential uses of the Fox Chain of Lakes water areas, to improve flood control capabilities and water quality in the region and to make recommendations to the General Assembly for legislation.

"The commission works in close cooperation with the Illinois Department of Conservation and with the Division of Water Resources. The commission serves as the central point of contact between interested citizens of the area and the state agencies and is the prime stimulus to development of the area waterways.

"In addition to the studies, public meetings and surveys completed and in progress, the commission has been responsible for the first public dredging program in 15 years to increase flood control capability and to restore navigable depths to the lake channels. A construction project, under the jurisdiction of the Division of Water Resources, was completed June 30 which removed 40,000 cubic yards of bottom sediment from Nippersink Lake near Grass Lake Rd.

"A second construction project, with similar goals, will be undertaken in the spring of 1977 to improve conditions in the southern part of Nippersink Lake, in the vicinity of the village of Fox Lake. This project will result in the creation of over 11 acres of usable land adjacent to Highway 12.

"The report of the commission to the Illinois General Assembly, scheduled for January, 1977, is expected to specifically outline the needs for development and the most appropriate method of accomplishing those objectives."

MR. BROOK, chairman of the commission, toured the lakes with Chicago newsmen from Channel 7.

This resulted in movies of the tour and a discussion of the Chain's problems being presented on television Monday night.

Ask the Old Farmer: Years ago on my property there was a blacksmith/wagon shop, and recently I found a large flat rock buried behind my barn. Exactly a half-circle in shape, 5 to 6 inches thick and smooth on both sides, the stone measures 6'2" from top to bottom. What would be its use?

Many old blacksmiths had a worn-out millstone beside their shops on which to set cart wheels. Yours would appear to be half of one — likely someone needed a doortop.

The Town Crier

A crowd of 61 sports lovers and one large dog showed up last Saturday for Antioch's annual softball classic between the Firemen and the Village Crew.

The Firemen had won last year's game by a close score. (We have forgotten exactly what it was.)

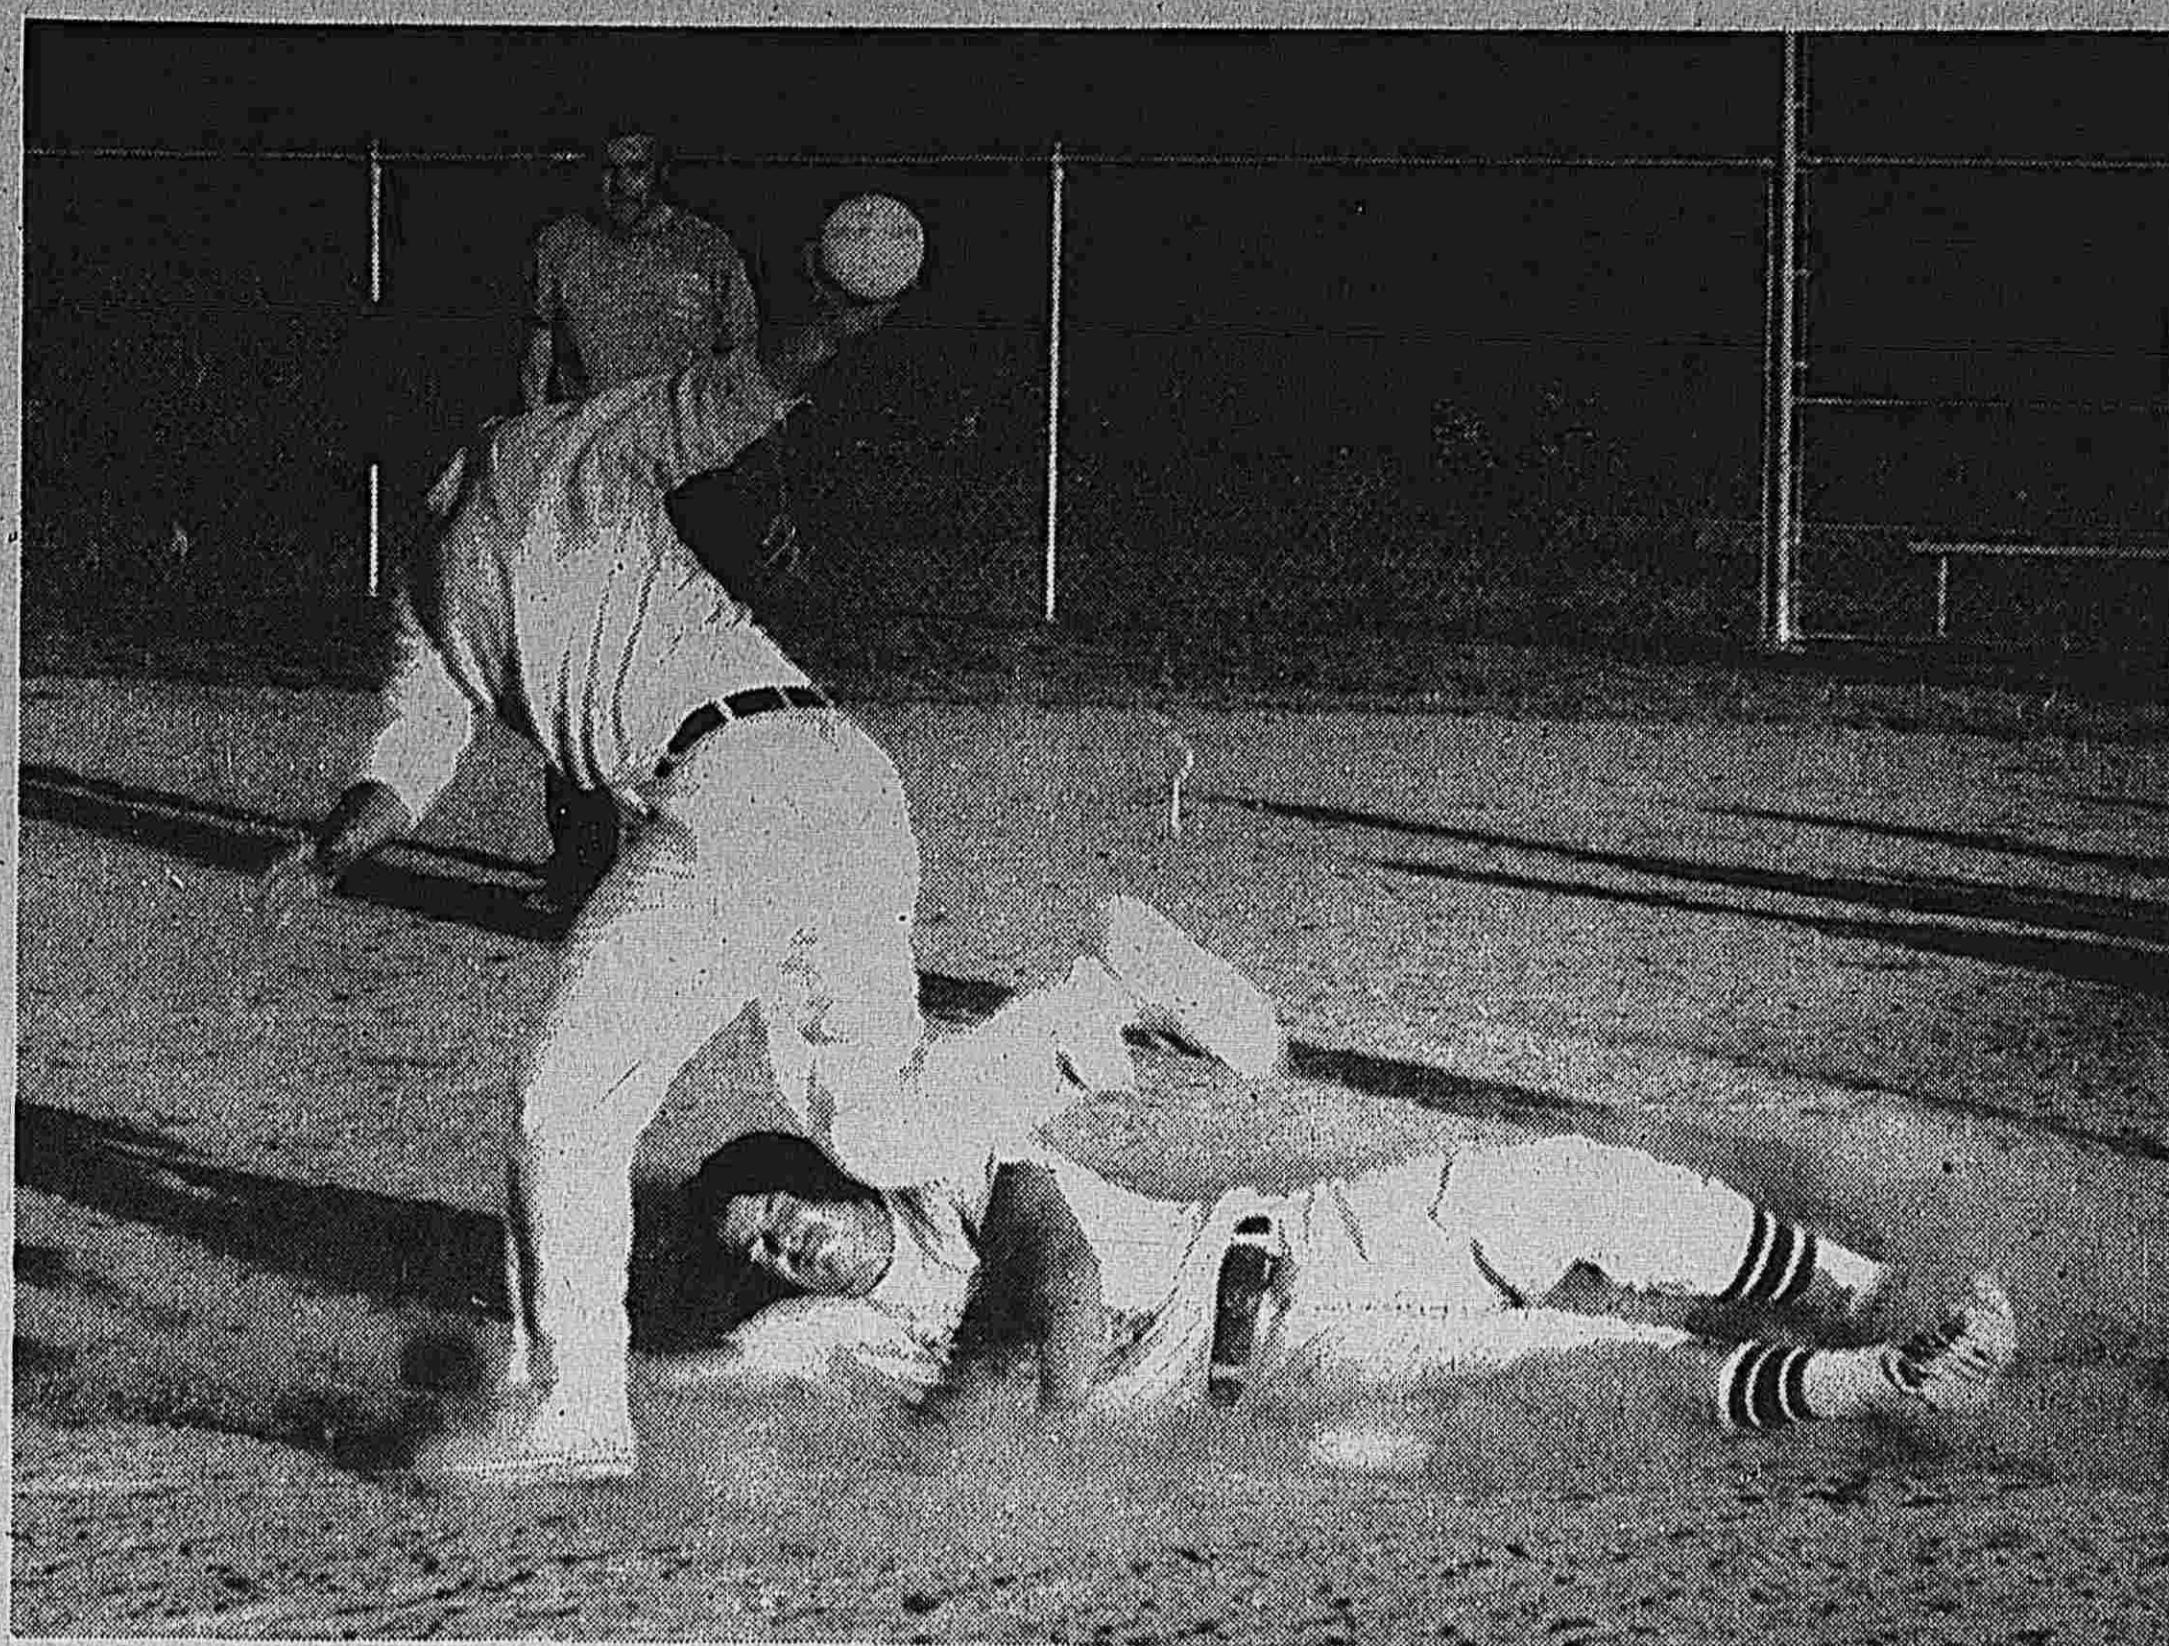

This year the Village Crew wallop numerous home runs and won easily, 33-5. The winners also enjoyed the beer which the Firemen had to buy for the post-game party.

PITCHER DAN Kasik of the Firemen was finally relieved after giving up 30 runs.

Kasik was very upset about being removed, insisting "I had a no-hitter going."

Dale Frasch of the Firemen had an explanation for the defeat:

"Since we beat them last year, have you noticed the new application blanks for village employees?" Frasch asked. "First it says, do you play baseball? If so, what position? And do you bat right or left-handed?"

NEWSPAPERS ARE like people. Fatter isn't always better.

A new, free "drive-in theater" has opened in Antioch.

It's at the Antioch Evangelical Free Church on Tiffany Rd.

The church is featuring new films in an outdoor setting, on a large screen in its "mosquito-controlled, paved parking lot."

"Just come as you are, and stay in your car," said Pastor Bernard C. Fosmark.

This Saturday and Sunday, starting at 8:45 p.m., a movie titled "No Need To Hide" retraces the life story of Nicky Cruz, a former warlord in the ganglands of New York.

Television star Art Linkletter travels with Nicky on a return visit to the ghettos of Manhattan to meet former friends, many of whom are still involved in gangland intrigue.

The church will show movies on Saturday and Sunday nights through Aug. 22. We'll keep you posted each Wednesday on what's playing the coming

THE ACTION WAS almost unbearable in last Saturday's exciting softball game, in which the Village Crew defeated the Antioch Firemen 33-5. Here, Bob Kennedy of the Village slides into third as George Pahlke of the Firemen displays style and grace in making a force-out. Pahlke's skill is admired by pitcher Dan Kasik (background) who lost a heartbreaker by only 28 runs.

THE VILLAGE CREW had interesting jerseys, complete with nicknames. "Beer Belly" was Mike Lindstrom and "Maggot" was Bob Kennedy. Umpire Mike Haley is in the background.

THE FIREMEN also came dressed for an action-packed game. Bernie Gutowski, for example.

ON PAGE 1 you saw the back of Scotty Lowe's jersey. On the front, just like his teammates, he said: "I'm Only Here for the Beer." They won it, JEFF GUTOWSKI AND KATHY ANDERSON, both of Antioch, were married at St. Peter's Catholic Church last Saturday. After the wedding ceremony they walked down the aisle, not suspecting that their friends and relatives had arranged an old-fashioned horse and buggy ride for them from the church to the reception at the Moose Lodge.

WHAT'S NEW in pink and blue?

Well, in blue there's Jason Eric Pederson, who arrived July 10 at Lake Forest hospital.

Jason's parents are Mr. and Mrs. John R. Pederson of 1203 S. Main St. in Antioch.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Pederson of 327 Lakewood are the paternal grandparents. The other proud grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Renz of Oak Lawn.

We notice Larry Ryan of Antioch is one of four dealers on a nationally-televised commercial for Ford automobiles. Larry looks real good on TV, too.

Lots of fun coming up at Antioch Country Club, starting with Friday's "Gimmick Tournament." On Friday, Aug. 6, there will be a "Jumpin' St. Jude" pool party.

Jeff Santino, a master at staging super parties, is planning the special series of Friday evening tournaments and dinners for the club's golf and social members.

Other parties are planned Aug. 20 and 27, and Sept. 10 and Sept. 24. Reservations must be made no later than 48 hours before each party.

Jeff promises the dinners will be wonderful surprises, but they're also closely guarded secrets.

AND, BY the way, you guys ... get your entries in for the first annual Antioch Open men's golf championship. To reserve a cart, you must enter early. See the blank on page 16 and don't wait till the last minute to enter.

ONE OF our favorite seamen, Nick Badame, has a birthday coming up Friday, July 30, in case any of his friends would like to plan a little surprise for him.

(Maybe a bucket to help Nick bale water out of Ev Oftedahl's Viking ship.)

Here's How 'Zero-Plus' Dialing Works

Illinois Bell has introduced a new concept in telephone communications. It's "Zero-Plus" calling, and it speeds completion of operator-assisted calls.

With Zero-Plus, you are able to dial calls such as person-to-person, collect, credit card, and calls billed to a third number just as easily as you "direct dial" station-to-station calls.

In the past, the operator handled person-to-person, collect, credit card and third-number billed long distance calls for you.

But now you can dial these calls yourself - and complete your call faster. An operator will come on the line to assist you as your call speeds along the network.

Because the operator helps you with Zero-Plus calls, direct-dial rates do not apply. Of course, it's cheaper still to dial all your calls direct station-to-station.

HERE'S HOW to use your telephone:

Station-to-station long distance:

- Within Area 312 - Dial number.

- Outside Area 312 - Dial appropriate area code and number.

CREDIT CARD, collect, person-to-person calls and third-number billed calls:

- Within Area 312 - Dial 0 (Operator) immediately followed by number.

- Outside Area 312 - Dial 0 (Operator) immediately followed by appropriate area code and number.

Bicentennial Play at CLC This Weekend

"Scratch," a three-act play by Pulitzer Prize winner Archibald MacLeish, concludes the College of Lake County Bicentennial Committee's summer programs.

"Scratch" featuring current and former CLC students and staff, is scheduled for Friday and Saturday in Building 5 on the Grayslake campus. Each performance starts at 8:30 p.m.

"Scratch" is an adaptation of the short story "The Devil and Daniel Webster" by Steven Vincent Benet. Jabez Stone of New Hampshire sells his soul to the devil for seven years of prosperity. Near the end of the seven years he regrets his action and engages lawyer Daniel Webster to help him void the agreement. The play presents the last day and night of the seven years during approximately the 1840's.

The devil tells Webster he may argue his case before any jury, live or dead. Webster gives the devil his choice and the devil produces a jury well-known in the annals of deceit, trickery and hangings. Justice Hawthorne, who presided over the Salem, Mass., witchcraft trials presides as the trial judge for Stone. He is played by Mark Kettner of Park City.

Astro-Analysis

By Sonia

ARIES [March 21-April 19] - Your chances to increase prosperity are heightened; gains come more from being level-headed in business matters than through speculation.

TAURUS [April 20-May 20] - Your abilities for projecting thoughts into constructive worthwhile purposes can be put to good use. New studies should be undertaken as power of concentration is keener.

GEMINI [May 21-June 21] - A more generous nature could lead to extravagance. Watch the budget more carefully and decide exactly what is essential and what is luxury.

CANCER [June 22-July 21] - Favors and good fortune come from others; show your gratitude by creating goodwill and accepting social invitations. A good time to stabilize financial affairs.

LEO [July 22-August 21] - Be alert and open minded where new ideas and opportunities are concerned. Aims should be focused on more serious matters which require your careful attention.

VIRGO [August 22-September 22] - Ambitions become more important now but be practical when pursuing personal goals. Be being overly-aggressive others may tend to be turned off.

LIBRA [September 23-November 21] - A good week to re-establish relationships with old acquaintances. Hopes and dreams can be realized; friends are an important part of your present plans.

SCORPIO [October 23-November 21] - Don't balk at authority; emphasis is placed upon affairs concerning public relations and employment. Stay on good terms with those in command.

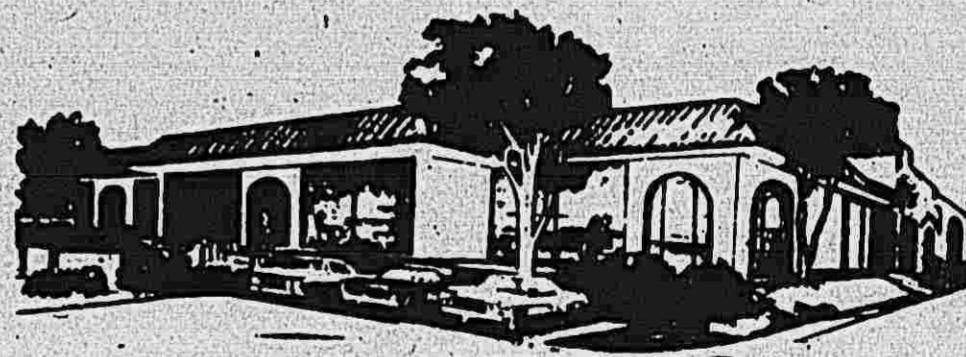

SAGITTARIUS [November 22-December 21] - A favorable trend for travel so make plans accordingly. Also a good time for mending past differences with kin or those who live at a distance.

CAPRICORN [December 21-January 20] - Success in matters of a public nature is indicated. Examine contracts and papers carefully before making any long-term commitments in writing, however.

AQUARIUS [January 21-February 19] - Close associates are inclined to disagree with your personal views; take the initiative and follow through on plans alone. Wait about beginning new deals.

PISCES [February 20-March 20] - Colleagues are more than willing to give time and efforts toward your goals so be receptive to the assistance of others. Although vitality is high a good practical health program should be adhered to.

Pres, Larry Reckers Win Tennis Tourney

Pres Reckers, vice-president of the State Bank of Antioch, and his 18-year-old son, Larry, won the men's doubles championship Sunday in Antioch's Bicentennial Tennis Tournament.

They defeated two strong young men in their 20's, Ken Burmeister of Twin Lakes and Bob Zukowski of Silver Lake.

The championship match was an interesting duel, loaded with fine long rallies by both teams.

The Reckers won the first set, 7-6, in a tie-breaker. They had led 5-2 but the Wisconsin players made a tough comeback to tie the games at 6-6.

Pres and Larry then scored a convincing 6-3 win in the second set. They put away a lot of volleys at the net.

"They placed the ball better than we did," said Zukowski. "They finessed better."

Forty teams had entered the men's doubles, so the Reckers had to win six straight matches en route to the championship. In the six matches they won 12 of their 13 sets.

Pres has been playing tennis for only two years, yet he consistently put the ball where his opponents weren't. Larry was a member of Antioch High School's first tennis team this spring. In Sunday's tournament finals he made numerous fine returns, both forehand and backhand, from the backcourt.

The finals were held at Jensen Park, along with championship matches in women's doubles and mixed doubles. The tournament was sponsored by Foremost Liquors of Antioch and Lindenhurst, with Kevin Kelly as tournament director.

IN MIXED doubles, Peyton McLamb and his wife, Emily, of Bristol, defeated Ariel Baylen of Antioch and Jill Hein of Lake Villa, 6-3 and 6-1.

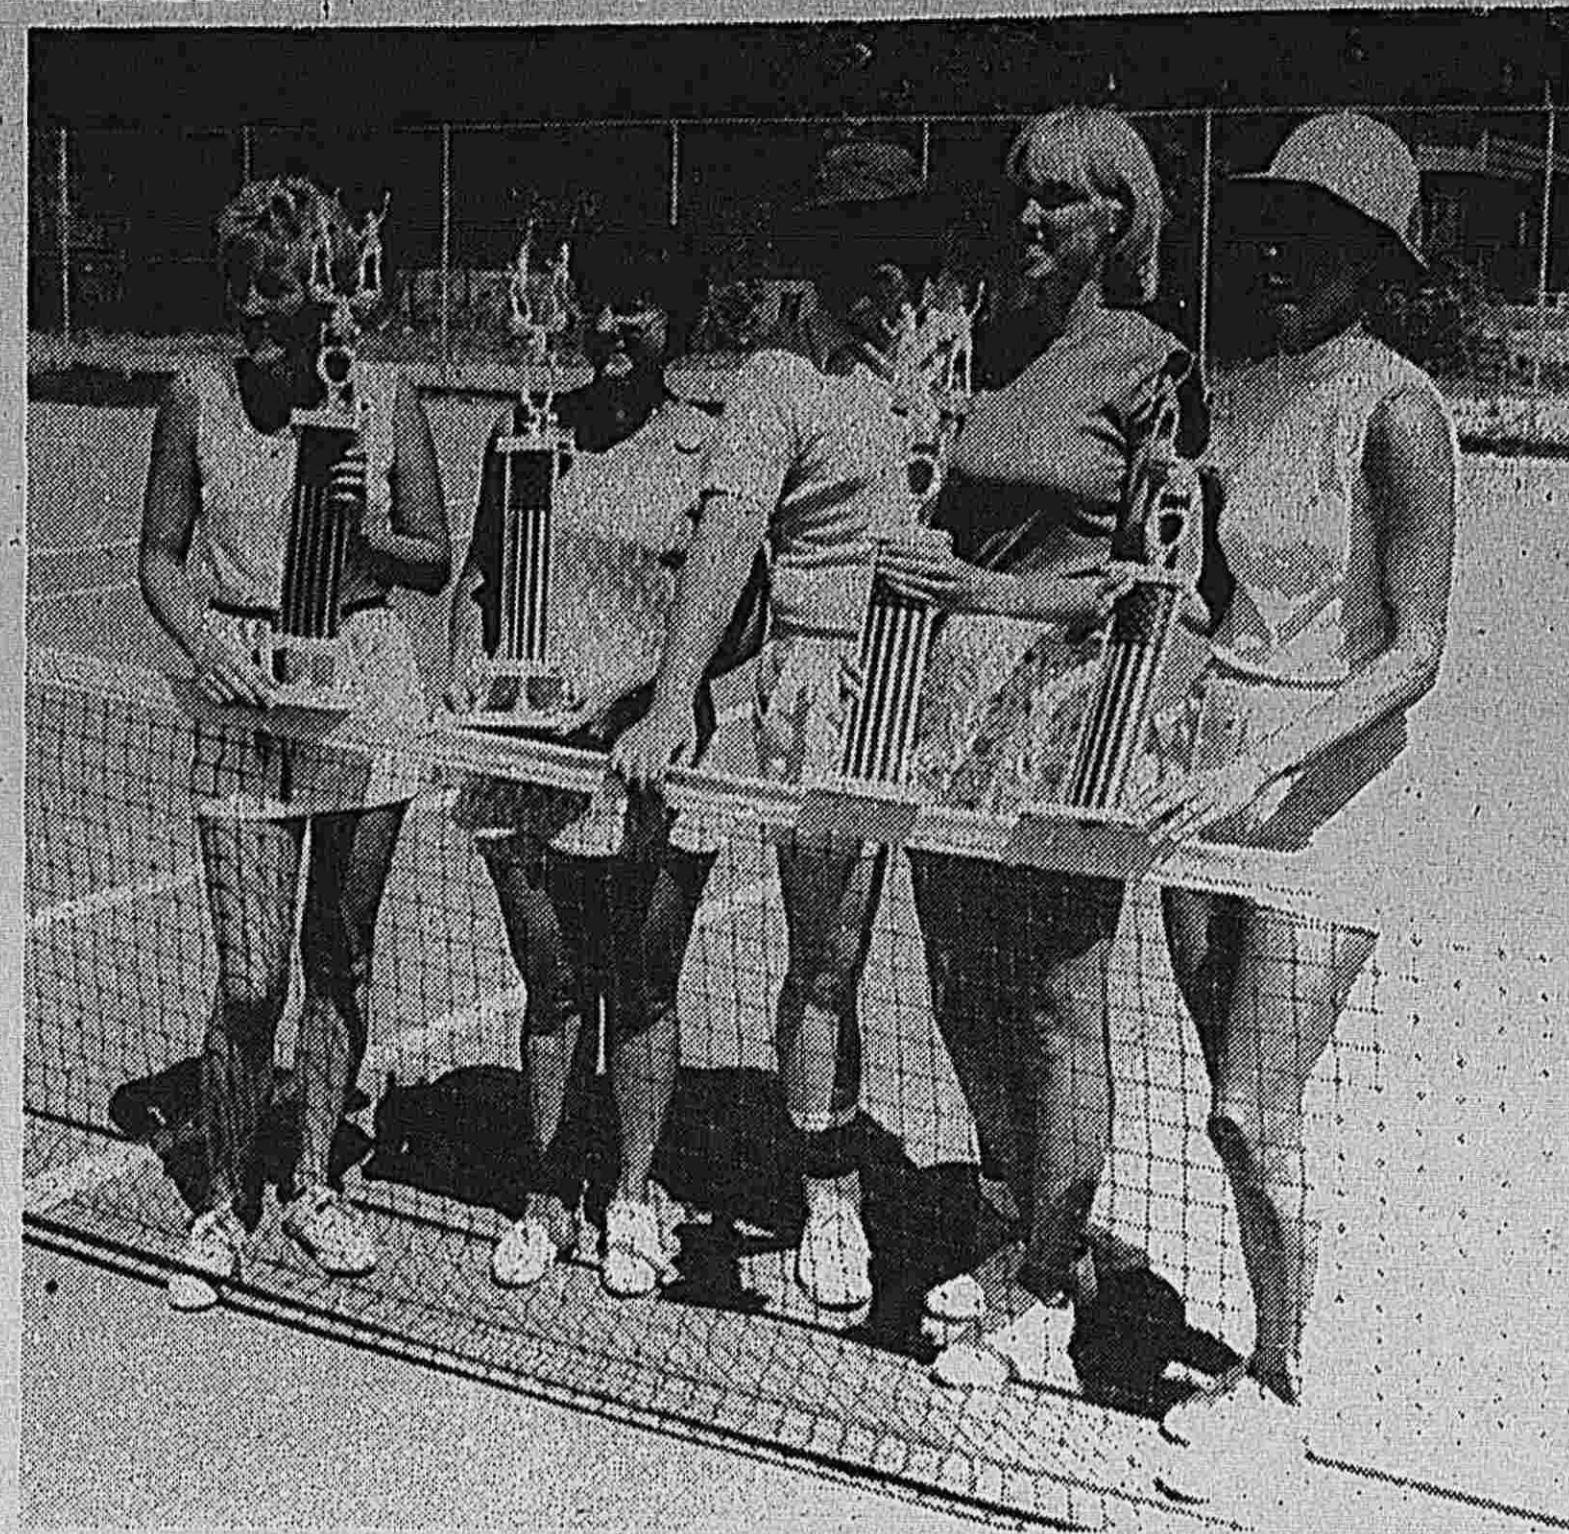

Observers who had watched Ariel and Jill work their way to the finals said they simply had an "off day" on Sunday.

Jill Hein of Lake Villa and Sandy Timmons of Waukegan won the women's doubles title by defeating Mary Rice of Kenosha and Emily McLamb of Bristol 6-1, 6-2.

Tournament Director Kevin Kelly said Sue Koppa, Antioch's coordinator of parks and recreation, helped tremendously with the event, as well as the boys and girls who helped officiate.

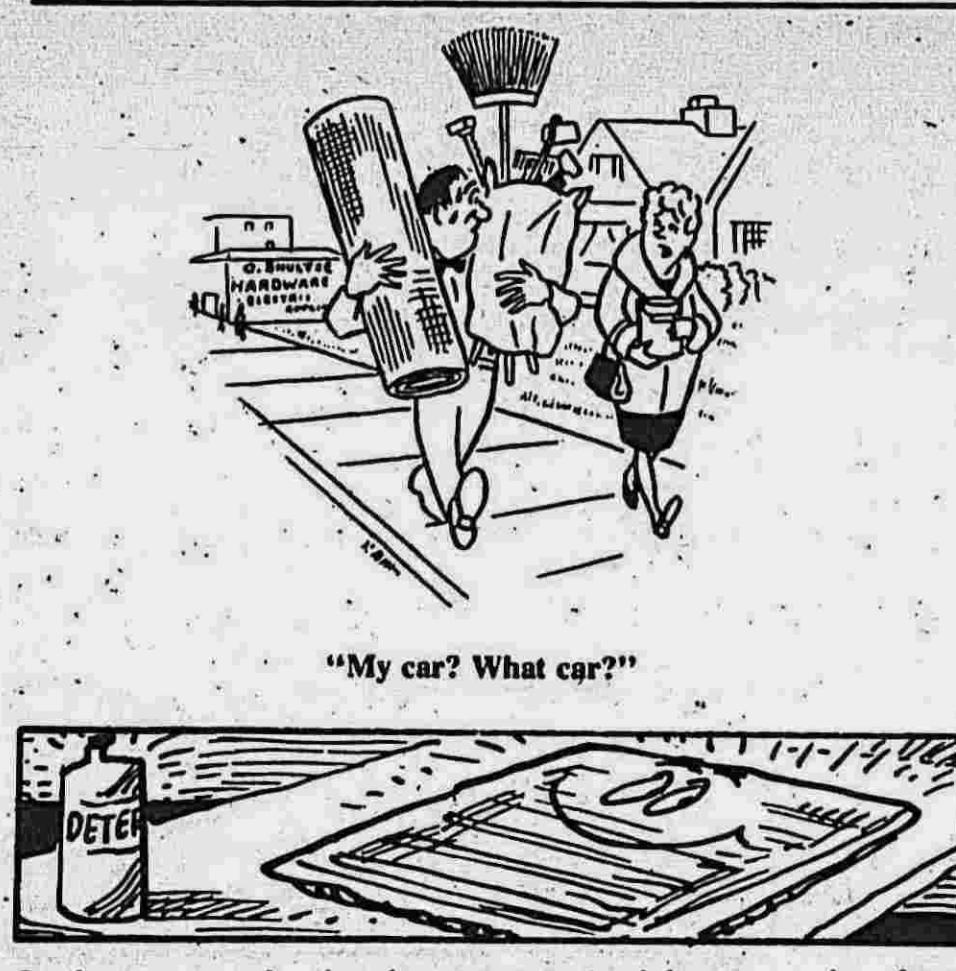

PRES RECKERS returns a shot in the finals of the men's doubles competition. He and his son, Larry, won the championship.

Nuclear Station Top Engineering Feat

Commonwealth Edison's Zion Nuclear Station has been ranked alongside the Apollo-Soyuz joint American-Russian space flight as one of the 10 top engineering achievements of 1975 by the National Society of Professional Engineers.

The achievement was recognized at the 91st Annual meeting of the Illinois Society of Professional Engineers (ISPE) held in Rockford.

Receiving the award for Edison was Frank Palmer, nuclear division manager, and Jack Bitel, Zion Nuclear Station superintendent.

Nominated by ISPE for national honors, the 2.1 million kilowatt nuclear station had to withstand stiff competition from 39 other projects nominated by professional engineers throughout the country.

The Zion station accounted for nearly half of the 1975 nuclear power output of Commonwealth Edison, producing 9.7 billion kilowatthours of electrical energy.

"About 35 percent of all electricity used in northern Illinois last year was produced by nuclear energy, representing a savings to consumers of over $125 million in fuel charges which would have been incurred if the nuclear output had been generated by coal instead," a Commonwealth Edison spokesman said.

LARRY RECKERS makes one of the neat returns that helped him and his dad, Pres, win the men's doubles title in the Foremost Liquors' Bicentennial tennis tournament Sunday.

Letter to the Editor

MR. TAXPAYER here are a few statistics I have gathered from Washington that will get your mind off the Liz Ray-Hays sexy affair. Remember them when your congressman knocks on your door at election time.

Your congressman gets free parking, haircuts, shoeshines, medical exams, prescriptions, law-books ($1,000), plants, picture framing, mailing privileges, free travel to and from their districts, swimming facilities, health club and free junkets to the finest wateringholes in the world!

Taxpayers subsidize their medical insurance, hospital stays, their basement commissary and their richly endowed retirement program. In the last 18 months our congressmen have raised their district office allowances by 43 percent, their special air mail and special delivery stamp allowance by 25 percent, their stationery allowance by $1,250. Hiked their salaries $1,700 in a time of severe unemployment and rated themselves an automatic cost of living escalator during a time of high inflation. Also the other day they raised by $10,000 to $25,000 the amount they may earn moonlighting on the lucrative lecture circuit.

They have added, (each of them) two additional staff slots at your expense, increasing their staff allowance to $34,000 a year. Each congressman gets about $5,000 for the cost of two newsletters to his constituents. He also is allowed $3,000 tax deduction for the hardship (?) of living away from home. Those congressmen living within the capitol are exempt from the D.C. income tax. They are entitled to maintain office slush funds for their own purposes subject neither to campaign spending limits or the Federal Election Commission.

During the past 18 months the cost per congressman has risen $110,000 per member. Over the last 20 years the cost of living has risen 82 percent but the price of Congress has risen 560 percent! Liz Ray and Mr. Hays are pikers compared to the above. Mark Twain once said, "It could probably be shown by facts and figures that there is no distinctly native American criminal class except congress."

Despite Disputes, Olympics Are Still a Spectacle

By JODY PATROVSKY

(Editor's Note: This is the fourth in a series of articles by Jody Patrovsky of Antioch, who is covering the Olympic Games for the Antioch News.)

Despite weeks of controversy in Canada, Montreal has had its 6-year extravaganza finally come true.

Montreal seemed to prove itself somewhat successful last Saturday when the Olympic Games began on time.

All of the beauty and excitement of the opening ceremonies were marred by the absence of some 27 nations in the parade of athletes.

The major problem between Canada, Taiwan, the United States, and the International Olympic Committee resulted with Taiwan officially withdrawing from the Games.

TAIWAN WAS the subject of a similar dispute in the 1960 Olympic Games in Rome, but at that time Taiwan agreed to participate as Formosa.

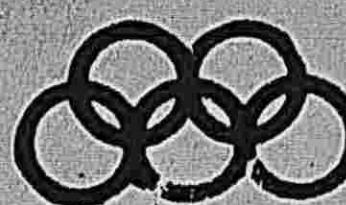

The other problem involved 26 African nations and their boycott of the opening ceremonies.

This was in protest to racial unrest caused by a New Zealand land rugby team's tour of Africa.

Since rugby is not an Olympic sport, the International Olympic Committee could not ban New Zealand from competition, as the African nations had requested.

IN SPITE of all these disputes, the opening ceremonies were a touching inspirational beginning to the Olympic Games.

Unfortunately, I was unable to witness the ceremonies in person, but now I am in Montreal to see some of the events.

I flew to Montreal Sunday afternoon and saw my first Olympic event, men's gymnastics, that evening.

Sunday night I camped with four friends, Sue Irmen and Terry Schleusener of Antioch, and Karin Mohar and Linda Koziel of Lindenhurst, who are also in Montreal attending the Games.

Monday, I registered at Laval College, five miles north of the Olympic Stadium in Laval, Quebec, for my seminar program.

This program provides room,

JODY PATROVSKY

board, some Olympic tickets, and transportation to the events.

At the end of the Games, there will be a seminar with international coaches and a tour to Ottawa.

I am very privileged to have this opportunity to attend the world's most coveted athletic competitions.

Even though some of the world's best athletes are not participating, there still is the Olympic spirit and enthusiasm in Montreal.

YARD AND LAWN EQUIPMENT CARE

Just about every homeowner in America has one or more pieces of yard and lawn equipment and knows the basic ways to work them. But not everyone is as readily familiar with the safety and maintenance procedures that should be observed for their proper operation and care.

If you own or operate any yard and lawn equipment, consult this safety and maintenance checklist to ensure that no potential equipment problems exist:

* Never use electric tools when it's raining or on wet surfaces.

* Use a power lawn mower or clippers only in dry grass or on dry shrubs.

* Fertilizer, which attracts moisture and invites rust, should not be allowed to build up on tools. Wash hand tools, spreader, and other metal garden equipment regularly with full-strength Janitor In A Drum®, rinse and let dry. (Be sure to disconnect electric equipment before attempting to clean them.)

* If you use a metal ladder, keep it away from electric power lines.

* Do not leave tools out-of-doors, exposed to the elements. When not in use, outdoor equipment should be kept in a dry place.

SPORTSMAN'S CORNER

Some of the state's best all-around fishing is available in the Chain O'Lakes area, the Illinois Conservation Department said this week.

Lake Marie shows excellent fishing for stripers, bluegill and northern pike, and good channel cat and walleye action.

Deep Lake anglers report excellent crappie catches, while largemouth and striped bass fishing is good. Trout, northern pike and bluegill receive fair marks.

Cedar Lake is good for largemouth and bluegill, while Lake Catherine lists fair to good fishing for stripers and bluegill.

A "Carp Fishing Derby" is set for Friday through Sunday in the Chain O'Lakes to benefit children with lung diseases.

The Cystic Fibrosis Foundation, in cooperation with Chain O'Lakes resorts, bait shops, marinas, local Chambers of Commerce and the Illinois Department of Conservation, is sponsoring the event.

Prizes will be given for (1) the most carp caught, (2) the most pounds of carp, (3) the largest carp. A $1 donation to Cystic Fibrosis will enter a fisherman in the event.

"We look forward to having an annual Carp Derby to help our kids with CF and other lung diseases and at the same time help a great fishing area in Illinois," a foundation spokesman said.

Enter the event at your Chain O'Lakes resort or bait shop. For information on registration locations call Mrs. Tuck at (312) 587-2828.

Hunters who didn't receive a shotgun deer hunting permit in the May 17 drawing can apply Aug. 9 for one of 1,818 permits still available in 15 counties which did not reach their assigned quotas.

Applications received prior to Aug. 9 will be returned.

"Permits will be allocated on a first-come, first-served basis until all have been assigned," said Conservation Director Tony Dean.

"Only one application per hunter can be submitted and persons sending more than one will forfeit both money and permit," Dean said.

Applicants who were unsuccessful in the drawing are being notified now by mail and are being informed of the unassigned permits. The unassigned permits also are available to hunters who did not apply during the earlier allocation. Those who were successful in the May drawing will receive their permits in July or August.

The 15 counties and numbers of permits still unassigned are:

DeKalb, 18; Douglas, 126; Edwards, 48; Ford, 140; Gallatin, 208; Henry, 15; Kendall, 10; Massac, 292; Menard, 9; Pope, 472; Scott, 42; Stark, 13; Wabash, 63; Warren, 84; and Winnebago, 278.

Applicants must send their name, address, county, first and second choices of counties they wish to hunt, and a $5 check or money order to: Department of Conservation, Deer Permit Office, 605 State Office Building, Springfield, IL 62706.

The 1976 shotgun deer hunting season will be Nov. 19-21 and Dec. 10-12.

Antioch Driver 3rd at Lake Geneva

Homer Garza of Antioch placed third in a 10-lap heat race at the Lake Geneva Raceway Saturday night.

He was competing in the sportsman stock car class.

In late model stocks, Dave Watson of Milton, Wis., posted the fastest qualifying time and then won the 30-lap feature.

THIS WEEKEND at the Lake Geneva track, promoters will hold a "Bikini Swimsuit Contest." A panel of drivers will select the winner and she will receive a four-foot trophy from track photographer Mike Dunn.

Male contestants in bikini trunks are permitted to enter but are not expected to draw much attention from the all-male driver panel.

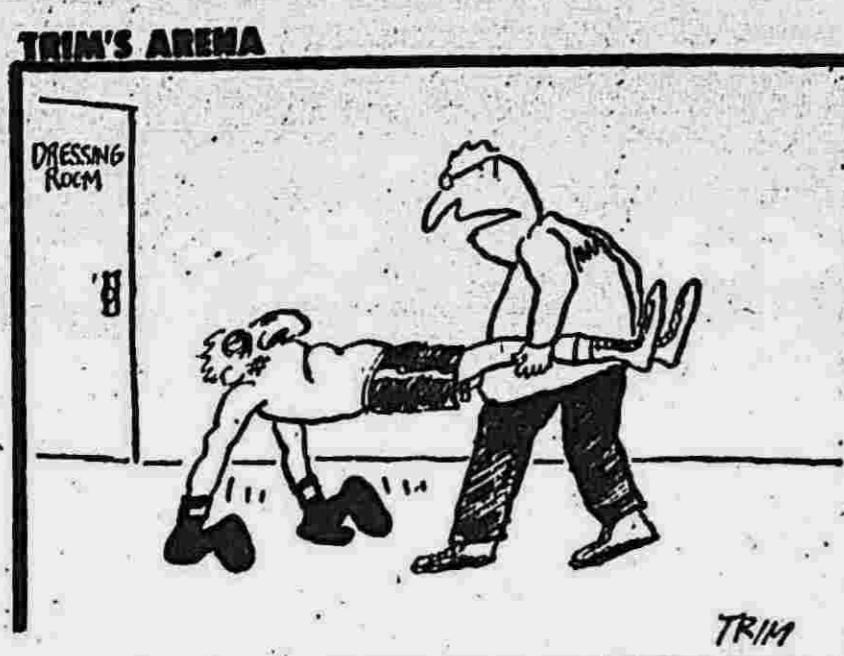

Watson broke his own time trial record at Lake Geneva on Saturday night and then went on to win the 10-lap heat race and the 30-lap feature race to score a clean sweep.

He drove the Nielsen 1976 Camaro to a 16.53 second, one-lap record to better his mark of 16.54 seconds set at Lake Geneva on June 19.

Tom Jones, Northbrook, in another 1976 Camaro, might have written a different story had he not taken too long to catch Jerry Eckerdt, Lake Mills, Wis., who was not too far behind Watson. It was apparent Jones was driving faster than either Watson or Eckerdt, but he was not getting the breaks in passing the slower cars and, when he did get behind Eckerdt, there was not enough racing left to seriously challenge for second place. He settled for third.

Ray Bush, Twin Lakes, easily won the 20-lap, semi-feature for the late model stocks in a car just purchased from Jerry Straubbe.

"WELL, IF YOU WON MORE FIGHTS WE COULD AFFORD TO HIRE A SECOND."

Robel Triumphs At Waukegan

Bob Robel of Oconomowoc, Wis., was the big winner Sunday night in the super-modified races at the Waukegan Speedway. It was Robel's eighth win on the modified circuit this year.

Robel set fast time in time trials, took third in the dash, won his heat and then took the feature lead from Ken Monroe on the ninth lap for the win.

Robel came through the field from the rear starting position, using the outside groove and catching Monroe in the seventh lap.

The fans came to their feet as Robel inched past Monroe on the homestretch in the ninth lap. Monroe held off a determined challenge by Rick Lemanski for second spot and, finally, in the closing laps Jim Hedges passed Lemanski for third money.

Next weekend the Waukegan track will host the moto-cross races on Friday night, the late models on Saturday night and the super-modifieds on Sunday under the lights.

Sunday, the gals will run in a powder-puff race.

RAY YOUNG recorded a clean sweep Saturday night in the late model super stock car races at the Waukegan Speedway.

Young's feature win snapped a string of four straight Saturday night wins by Bob Dotter. Dotter, running a borrowed engine after blowing his regular powerplant the night before, finished second in the main event.

Future race drivers got a chance to try their courage and skills at the Waukegan track in go-kart races for youngsters. In the junior category Brian Lesser of Park City was the winner and Bobby Dotter, son of late model point leader Bob Dotter, scored a close win in the class for other youths.

This Saturday night the popular 'Beat-Your-Neighbor Races' return to Waukegan along with the hobbies and late model super stocks. Time trials are at 7:15 with the first race at 8 p.m.

Homan, Collins Star at Wilmot

Tom Homan of Antioch was second in qualifying last Saturday at Kenosha County Speedway in Wilmot.

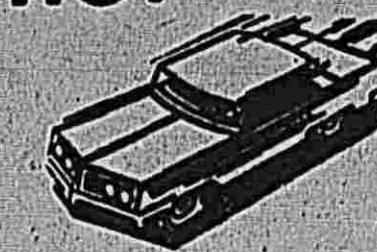

Homan, competing in the sportsman stock car class, was beaten in the dash around the track only by Sid Norton of McHenry.

Don Collins of Antioch took third in a 20-lap sportsman feature won by Ralph Rau of Paddock Lake.

Dick Colburn of Muskego, Wis., won the 25-lap super-modified feature race, his fourth triumph of the season in that event. He won the same race the previous night, Friday, at Lake Geneva Raceway.

Colburn's Saturday win will always be in question for many fans, as well as for Jimmy Hedges, Kenosha, who had a long lead in the feature when Gene Pennington's car lost a wheel and brought out the only yellow flag in the 25-lap distance.

However, with the field bunched, Colburn moved from the second row, past Gary Dye, West Allis, and fought Hedges for the lead which finally came with only three laps to the end.

Hedges and Dye were followed by Carmen Menzardo, Lindenhurst, and last week's winner Jim Fiscus, Madison.

The late model sportsman stock car drivers raced in their 40-lap, mid-season championship race (run as twin 20-lap events) and at the end of the two features there was a tie in points for the overall win between Sid Norton, McHenry, who won the second "20" and placed 6th in the first, and Ken Zeisse, Union Grove point leader, who was 2nd in the first and finished 4th in the second.

Norton took the single overall trophy home but next week a duplicate will be awarded to Ken Zeisse.

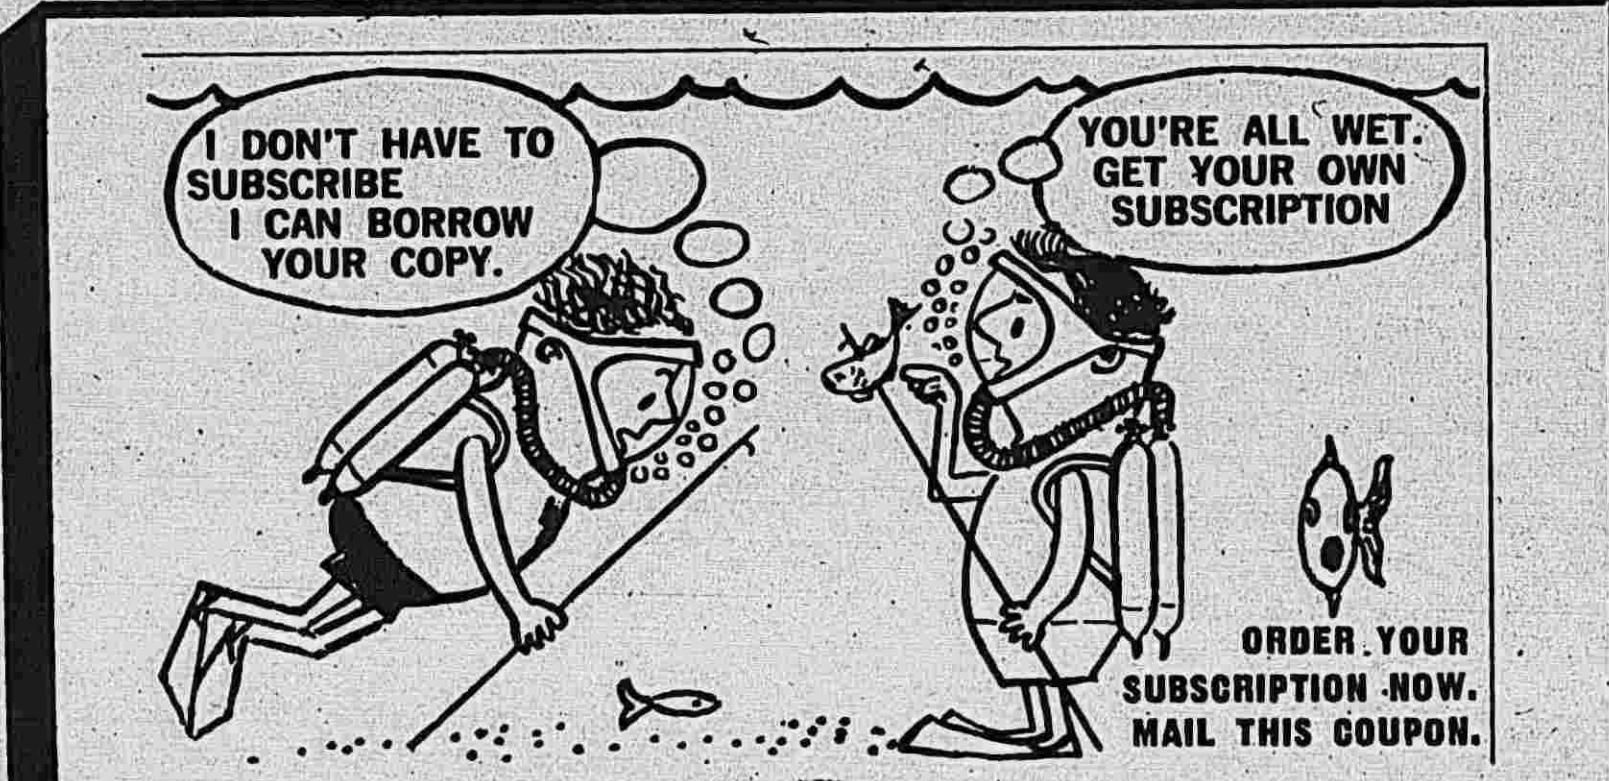

Ralph Rau, Paddock Lake won the first 20-lap feature and was leading the second 20-lap distance when he spun out, dropping far back. He recovered to finish 8th, and 3rd overall to Collins.

Women of The Moose Attract 36

Last week's chapter meeting of the Antioch Women of the Moose was attended by 36
co-workers.

Senior Regent Norma Lowe opened the meeting and then turned the gavel over to Collegian Judy Page, who proceeded with the installation of membership chairman Mary Brylinke.

The chapter voted on new member Nora Kucia (Sponsor Irene Klemz) and a transfer for Beatrice Phillips.

The hospitality chairman reported that get-well cards were sent to Lillian Heraty, Marge
Hartman, Louise Stenberg and Harry Sperling.

Birthday marchers for the month were Anne Stickler, who was visiting from Florida, and Irene Brylinke.

Irene Klemz, Fran Bock,
Betty Dahlke and Stephanie Polson were escorted to the membership heart where they placed the names of their candidates who have been enrolled into our chapter. Share the pot was won by Shirley Kucia.

The Moose Club's bicentennial dance is July 31 at the Moose Home, at 9 p.m. Tickets are still available for $2.50 each.

The Loyal Order of Moose will have its picnic on Aug. 15 at the Aqua Center in Antioch. This year the Women of the Moose will have a hot dog stand, corn roast and chips for sale.

The picnic is for Moose members and their guests.

The next chapter meeting will be Aug. 5, the Star Recorder
Chapter Night program.

THESE DAYS, THE EXTRA MONEY IS IMPORTANT.

The Army Reserve gives you more than just money. It gives you a sense of pride, a new skill, and a chance to serve your country. But when cash is hard to come by, the Reserve is a good part-time job with regular promotions and pay raises too. These days, that can mean a lot. Call your local Army Reserve unit for details.

Howlett

Promises Crackdown

Michael J. Howlett, Democratic candidate for Governor, has advocated "Sunset" legislation to force periodic review of state agencies and eliminate those that have outlived their usefulness.

Howlett spoke at Effingham on the first day of a nine-day tour of southern Illinois, using a camper as mobile headquarters.

A "Sunset Law" makes mandatory that state boards, committees and commissions would be automatically abolished after a specified period of life unless the General Assembly should reconstitute them.

"A Sunset Law is being tried in Colorado," said Howlett. "We should give it a chance to work in Illinois.

"Illinois licenses more occupations, businesses and trades than any other state in the union - 175 in all," he said.

"The state spends great time and money licensing lie detector operators, shorthand reporters, beauty operators, barbers, horseshoers, persons who hold boxing and wrestling matches - the announcers, timekeepers, matchmakers and referees," Howlett said.

A Sunset Law would force periodic evaluation of an agency's performance and make it justify its existence.

"Regulation is necessary in many activities. But a forced review might find many are unnecessary," Howlett said.

"We found we didn't need the greenhouse in Springfield which had supplied plants and flowers for the Capitol Complex," Howlett said.

"It had cost $40 thousand a year to operate and needed repair. We eliminated it and found we could buy all the plants we needed for less than $5 thousand a year from private enterprise" he said.

"With your help," he said, "we will reduce state government to a manageable size that provides for human needs, eliminates waste and duplication and puts every tax dollar to work for the taxpayer's benefit."

DISPELLING CRUISE MIS-CONCEPTIONS:

The problem with so many of us in the mid-west is that we know very little about this great bargain. On the East and West coast one is able to see the various ships coming and going, which gives a certain amount of intrigue and investigation on this great vacation bargain.

I do believe the public has two principal misconceptions about cruising. One is that cruises are too expensive for the average pocketbook. Admittedly, they are not as economical as, say, a camping trip to a state park. On the other hand, they come close to being a bargain when compared with resort and major city vacation travel.

Popular misconception No. 2, in my view, is that cruising is a formal affair. I suspect that it keeps more people ground and air-bound than even the mistaken notion about cruising's un-affordability, if I may coin a word.

All too often I take this inner knowledge for granted, because of being in the travel world for almost 20 years. Taking cruises for granted is something I should not do.

Once you've dispelled the myths about cruising, I am sure you will find that cruises lend themselves to a most economical vacation, which could be the best one you have had in years.

Why not give it a try? Stop in and ask as many questions as possible. Many of the cruise company's policy now is flying you free from your home city to the port of departure. Now if that isn't a bargain, I don't know what is.

Remember, we the travel agents are here to protect your investment, which the travel vacation could be. So don't make a costly mistake - give a call first.

NAMES IN THE NEWS

GLEN E. AMUNDSEN, 508 First St.; Linda D. Lagerstrom, R.R. 5, and Debra L. Payne, 308 Maplewood, all of Antioch, have been named to the Dean's Honor List at Augustana College, Rock Island. The list covers students whose grade point average is in the A range, from 3.50 to 4.00.

The Antioch Jaycees will hold their monthly general membership meeting on Wednesday, July 26, at 8 p.m. at The Harbor, off Grass Lake Rd.

Highlight of the evening will be guest speaker Jerry Murphy, who will enlighten us on the efforts of the Chain-O-Lakes study commission, dealing with local problems of flooding, pollution, etc. Guests are invited to attend.

On July 29, 30 and 31, the Antioch Jaycees will join the community in the festivities and activities of Maxwell Street Days. We will have a corn roast and a dunk tank which you may want to enjoy at a reasonable fee. Who knows? Maybe one of your favorite persons will be sitting in our dunk tank. Any proceeds will go to our youth program.

On Wednesday, Aug. 11, we will be taking a busload of local kids to Wrigley Field to watch the Cubs play the Reds.

One last item: If you are a young man between 18 and 35 and want to get involved in your community, call Paul Kinas, Jaycees President, at 395-5043.
